Question from Councillor Robin Stuchbury to Councillor Peter Strachan, Cabinet Member for Planning and Regeneration

Buckinghamshire Council's Parish charter set out some broad ambitions around planning. It states that to enable Parish and Town Councils to contribute to the planning process the Council will:-

- adopt a statement of community involvement regarding consultations with Parish and Town Councils on planning issues.
- equip Parish and Town Councils with the knowledge and skills to enable them to share the views of the community they represent
- enable Parish and Town Councils to set up policies for their own local area by preparing neighbourhood plans
- ensure Parish and Town Councils have the right to question and call in an application to a committee or request a Buckinghamshire councillor to do that on their behalf and give them a dedicated speaking slot where they have made representations
- consult Parish and Town councils, when producing the Buckinghamshire Local plan that will replace the current adopted local plan including the mineral waste plan.

These were broad ambitions set out at the onset and formation of Buckinghamshire Council. How does the Council believe they are meeting these aspirations for partnership working and can specific examples be given on what has been achieved in relation to the bullet points above?
